GERBER'S AMATEUR STANDING WILL BE DECIDED TODAY

University Council Called to Meet Wednesday Afternoon to Discuss Case

NOTICE OF COMPLAINT DOES NOT DISCLOSE ITS ORIGIN

Ryan Preparing to Meet Emergency With Substitute

MADISON, Wis.—E. C. Gerber, star tackle on the Wisconsin football team, was held to be ineligible by the university athletic council after a three-hour session Wednesday afternoon.

The committee's findings were based on a report of Athletic Director Jones who investigated charges that Gerber was employed as an athletic director at the La Crosse Y. M. C. A.

The council found Gerber guilty of a violation of the "Big Ten ruling" Jones said after the meeting.

"We found that he had acted in the capacity of a physical director of the Y. M. C. A. at La Crosse. This makes him a professional."

Gerber attended the council's session and was questioned at length regarding his connection with the La Crosse organization.

Origin Unknown

Badger athletic officials said Wednesday that police of the complaint against Gerber received from Commissioner John J. Griffith, Chicago, did not disclose the source of the complaint. It remains a puzzle as far as officials here are concerned who is responsible for the charges.

Pending decision of the charges, Coach Jack Ryan is preparing to meet the emergency in case Gerber is forced out of Saturday's game with Illinois. Benson, who has been with the Badger squad for three years, was worked at the tackle position and may be in the line-up Saturday.

CHICAGO, Ill.—The attempt to disqualify E. C. Gerber, regular tackle on the University of Wisconsin football team, on a charge of professionalism, has injected a new worry into the Badger camp just before its important game with Illinois at Urbana, Saturday.

Without his big tackle, the Wisconsin eleven would be handicapped in its effort to maintain its position among the western conference elms, by defeating the Illini. Gerber is charged with having received compensation for training a boys' swimming class in the La Crosse, Wis., Y. M. C. A.

MILE A MINUTE STRAIGHT UP IS RECORD OF NAVY AVIATOR IN MITCHELL FIELD CONTESTS

MITCHELL FIELD, New York.—In one minute an airplane went nearly one mile high Tuesday and man had made another mark in the sky. More comparable, perhaps, with the passage of lightning than anything else mortals have seen, the airplane rose from the wet turf of Mitchell Field and flashed upwards.

In the pilot's seat was Lieutenant A. J. Williams, known as "Al" when he pitched for the New York National League baseball club, holder of the world's speed record which he established last week at 246.8 miles an hour.

His feat was the culmination of a day of thrills witnessed by 30,000 people, undeterred by the rain.

Dusk had fallen when Lieutenant Williams and Lieutenant Harold J. Brown, both of the navy, took off and none but official observers realized that Williams' plane, its exhaust spitting fire that left a blazing trail, was going for a record.

The previous ascending speed record was 2,300 feet in one minute made by Roland Kohler. The crowd went all aghast over nothing at one period when the basket of an ascending kite balloon was tripped and two figures dropped out hanging to parachutes which failed to open soon enough.

The figures landed with terrific impact and an ambulance went dashing for them. Only a few officials realized the parachute episode was premature.

The balloon was sent up as a target for airplanes and the basket was to fall automatically when it went into flames and the figures were to descend to show the crowd how balloons escape death. Even the ambulance man forgot that the figures were dummies and many in the crowd had trouble realizing it when informed.

JOE JOHNSON ASKS DISCHARGE FROM THE COUNTY JAIL

After serving sixty days in the county jail for selling liquor, Joe H. Johnson, former bartender for Nick Kaiser, has filed a petition with Clerk of the United States Court Alfred Harrison asking to be discharged under the indigent prisoner act. Johnson was fined $500 in addition to being sentenced to sixty days and he claims he is unable to pay the fine. The petition must be acted upon by the court.

COMMITTEES THINK POLICE AND FIREMEN ENTITLED TO RAISE

Definite action will be taken by the committee following a meeting with the budget committee.

FULL OBSERVANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY IS PLANNED HERE

Elaborate Arrangements Made for Exercises on Next Monday Morning

BIG MEETING AT THEATER TO START AT TEN-THIRTY

Business Houses Asked to Close for the Occasion

PROCLAMATION

To the Citizens of La Crosse, Wis. In accordance with the custom for years, and the proclamation of President Coolidge and Governor Blaine, I hereby designate November 12, 1923, (since the 11th falls on Sunday) to be observed as Armistice Day in the city of La Crosse. It is my hope that this day be dedicated as a legal holiday in honor of those who have given their lives and made the great sacrifices in the late world war to make the world safe for democracy, and in recognition of the self sacrifice and heroism of our soldiers. In paying deserved tribute to the heroes of battle on land, sea and in the air, we shall find a new dedication of ourselves as citizens owing patriotic love and duty to the country for which they died.

That the significance of the day may be fully recognized, I urge that all citizens, so far as possible abandon their ordinary pursuits and join with the veterans of our army and navy in the ceremonies appropriate to the day. (Signed) J. J. VERCHOTA, Mayor of La Crosse.

The most comprehensive observance of Armistice Day in the history of the city has been arranged for Monday morning, November 12. Armistice day falling on Sunday this year has moved the leaders of the American Legion and other patriotic organizations throughout the entire country to plan for giving up of time on the part of workers in field, factory, store and home to commemorate the ending of the great world war.

Stores to Close

The retail stores are expected to close until 12 noon Monday to enable the workers to attend the big downtown meeting at the La Crosse theater, which has been donated for the occasion by the La Crosse Theaters company.

L. K. Adkins, commander of the American Legion, will preside over the meeting at the La Crosse theater. Rev. Stewart, who is also an international Kiwanis lecturer, will deliver the address of the day. The new American Legion band will render two selections.

"In Flanders Field," famous composition set to music by Mrs. Percy L. Cliffe of La Crosse will be sung by Mr. Alby Elrstad.

Rev. C. C. Rowles will offer a prayer. The meeting will begin at 10:30 and close promptly at 11:15. John Doherty will be the speaker at the Catholic church service.

The Normal school program will be presided over by Prof. Fairchild. Addresses will be given by Prof. Goff, and several students. Prof. Leader and various members of the music department will furnish appropriate music.

At High School

At the high school Harry R. Lett, hold, vice commander of the Legion, will preside.

Mrs. R. C. Whelpley, director of music at the high school, has arranged a musical program.

Attorney A. H. Schubert will speak at the two meetings necessary to seal the entire student body.

At 11 a. m. all in the various meetings, as well as those in their homes, are requested to pause for 30 minutes for meditation and prayer.

The mayor having issued a proclamation called on all citizens to properly observe Armistice day, stores and factories are expected to close until 12 noon that all may attend the meetings.

TO PATRIOTIC SOCIETIES

Advantage is here taken of the opportunity afforded by the public press to specially invite the members of all patriotic societies to attend the theater program. No parade is scheduled; but a part of the center section will be reserved, until exactly 10:30 o'clock, so that members of patriotic organizations may be seated together. After 10:30 any seats not taken will be thrown open to others.

(Signed) QUINCY HALE and HARRY L. LEITHOLD, Armistice Day Committee of American Legion.

BRITISH PREMIERS AGREE TO TREATY ON SHIP LIQUOR

LONDON.—By The Associated Press.—The imperial conference of premiers has given final assent to the proposal for an agreement by which British vessels suspected of liquor running may be stopped and searched within an agreed distance of the American shore. IGNORE FRANCE RATHER THAN DROP CONFERENCE ON REPARATIONS--LENROOT

SENATOR LENROOT

WANTS ACTION TO MAKE CLEAR FRENCH STAND

Would Not Let Her Seek German Destruction Under the Guise of Collecting Reparations

TWO LARGE HOUSES GIVE LENROOT BIG RECEPTION

Evening Audience Crowded With Farmers from Three Counties

THE United States should take the lead in the move suggested by Secretary Hughes, on instructions from President Harding, that a conference of impartial experts ascertain Germany's capacity to make reparations, regardless of the fact that France has failed to accept America's proposition, Senator Lenroot declared in his address at the La Crosse theater Tuesday evening.

"I would like to see the United States, England and such other countries as may be willing to join us, go ahead and ascertain Germany's ability to pay and trust the world's opinion to induce France to accept the findings of the conference," declared the senator, in speaking of the European situation. "If it be true that France seeks the destruction of Germany let it not be under the guise of seeking reparations. Let the world know and understand the real purpose of France and she will stand isolated and alone."

Two Large Audiences

The senator spoke in the evening under the auspices of the M. K. Producers' association and he devoted a large portion of his talk to the problems of the farmers. In the afternoon he spoke on "The Constitution."

The afternoon meeting was under the auspices of the Catholic Women's league and the audience was composed chiefly of women. Both talks were delivered to good crowds.

In the evening the theater was crowded with farmers from La Crosse and adjoining counties. There were a number of business men from such villages and towns as Trempealeau, Galesville, West Salem, Bangor, Viroqua and down river villages. There was also a representative gathering of La Crosse people at the meeting.

Mayor J. J. Verchota introduced the senator. Although Mr. Verchota was frank to say that he belonged to a different branch of the republican party than Senator Lenroot, he declared that La Crosse was glad to welcome such a distinguished citizen.

Mayor Verchota sketched briefly Senator Lenroot's career in Wisconsin and at Washington, describing him as a typical American who had made his own way. In acknowledging the introduction Senator Lenroot said that the difference in political allegiance between Mayor Verchota and himself was not of importance on this occasion as he did not intend to deliver a political speech. He planned, he said, to offer some facts on present-day problems, and there could be no politics in facts. Political differences, he said, arose not from facts but from the conclusions drawn from them.

Senator Lenroot said, in part:

Europe is in Chaos

"Europe is in chaos and no one can tell when it may again flame into war. Can America, even from a selfish standpoint, be indifferent to the present European situation? There are those among us, who, because they thought it was popular, have loudly shouted that we must have nothing to do with Europe. They have said that European quarrels did not in any way concern us, and we must turn our backs upon them."

"Now becoming involved in European quarrels and entering into obligations with respect to them, involving the use of American men and American money has and will be condemned by the American people. They will never approve the league of nations as presented by President Wilson, but I do not believe that the American people wish to shut their eyes as to conditions in Europe or do nothing to help them."

Desires Justice to All

"America desires to see justice done in all the world, and peace and good will take the place of envy and hate. We have seen the rulers of Europe ever since the armistice following the policy of selfish advantage of domination and exploitation, and we have been glad that we have held aloof from such policies."

But conditions are changing and it is well to make a brief survey of the situation today.

"Germany is upon the brink of ruin, politically, industrially, and financially."

DEMOCRATS ELECT GOVERNORS IN 3 STATES TUESDAY

Republican Named to Senate from Vermont, Only State Voting on Senator

DEMOCRATS WIN FOUR PLACES IN LOWER HOUSE OF CONGRESS

Woman is Named Circuit Judge in Chicago District

(By the Associated Press) DEMOCRATS were elected Tuesday in all three states where there were gubernatorial elections—Kentucky, Maryland and Mississippi.

Vermont, where the only senatorial contest was held, returned a republican—Porter H. Dale, who defeated Park H. Pollard, cousin of President Coolidge.

In the seven contests for the house, the democrats won four and the republicans three, one of the republican victories being an upset in which former representative Fairchild defeated his democratic opponent for the place made vacant by the death of J. Vincent Gandy in the twenty-fourth congressional district. Party alignment was unchanged in the other congressional elections.

Kentucky Democrats Win

The victory of the democrats in Kentucky, where Representative William J. Fields defeated Charles T. Dawson, represented a swing of the pendulum which at the last election swept Governor Edwin P. Morrow, republican, into office. Mr. Fields' majority was decisive, and he will have a democratic legislature to support him.

Governor Ritchie, re-elected in Maryland over Alexander Arnsperg, republican had an increased majority over his first election. H. L. Whitfield, democrat, had no opposition in Mississippi.

In New York state the republicans retained control of the general assembly, but the democratic judiciary ticket in Manhattan and the Bronx was swept into office, overwhelming the republican and independent ticket, supported by William H. Hearst. The soldiers' bonus, apparently, was carried, and the hydro-electric power project beaten.

Local issues were voted on in various sections of the country. Virginia (Continued on page six)

"AUNT MARY" EAGER TO HELP THE ELKS COMMUNITY BAZAAR

DEFINITE assurance that May Robson, famous comedienne, will do her bit for the Elks Community Bazaar was received shortly after Miss Robson arrived in the city today for her performance in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary."

Miss Robson immediately fell in with the plans laid by the Elks, and promised to appear at the bazaar this evening as soon as possible after her last curtain. Miss Robson, it is understood, will take charge of one of the booths at the bazaar and the male quartet of her company will help to entertain the bazaar crowd.

SALE OF SURPLUS WAR GOODS HALTED BY LATE PRESIDENT

Harding Took Perryville Contract Out of Forbes' Hands, Says Witness

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The late President Harding ordered the contract for the sale of surplus materials at Perryville suspended in November, 1922, and made the suspension permanent last January, according to testimony by Commander O'Leary on Tuesday, before the senate committee investigating frauds in the war veterans' bureau.

This was brought out on questions by counsel for Col. Charles R. Forbes, former head of the bureau.

Col. Forbes is scheduled to take the stand in his defense on Monday or Tuesday.

The inquiry on Tuesday dealt entirely with the Perryville transaction, and counsel for Forbes attempted to show that the dead president had entire knowledge of the details of the surplus materials, even to the sale of $4,000 new sheets and 1,000,000 new towels as used goods. This was shown to him to have been impossible.

Suspends Contract Twice
Protests from constituents of former Senator Gaylor of New York, and New York firms, classed as disappointed bidders, it was shown, led President Harding to suspend the Thompson-Kelly Perryville contract on November 21, 1922.

He demanded details as to the surplus the contractors were to get and this was given him by Col. Forbes, Major Carmody and Commander O'Leary. The embargo on the contract was then lifted, but further protests impelled the president to rescind that action and suspend the contract on January 24. This action was taken shortly before Col. Forbes left for Europe.

Despite the final presidential order suspending the contract, which had been awarded without competitive bidding, Commander O'Leary said Col. Forbes had ordered him to allow four loaded cars of the surplus materials to leave the Perryville depot.

Contradicts Himself
In the conference on December 12, an attempt was made by Commander O'Leary to give the impression that President Harding knew that $4,000 new sheets were included in the surplus and 1,000,000 towels. Such was the impression he conveyed by his answers. But toward the end Senator Reed made him admit that the president could not have known the sheets and towels were in the surplus, since the witness on Monday had testified he himself had not known of these goods at that time.

Commander O'Leary also testified that Henry Ancherst of New York had threatened to blow the roof off the veterans' bureau after the surplus had refused to allow him to buy surplus material at North Chicago on the same basis as the Thompson-Kelly company enjoyed at Perryville.

Never Used Adding Machines
Another feature of the day was a letter read from a war veteran worker in the field which told of wine parties and general carousals by himself and another government worker at Clifton, Ohio.

Adding machines costing $400 never used, and now stored in the basement in war veterans' bureau, were shown to have been purchased under the regime of Secretary McAdoo, who, with other assistants, signed the contract on a cost plus basis.

Commander O'Leary, who was head of the supply division, told his story of the sale of surplus materials at Perryville on Monday. He was recalled on Tuesday at the request of Major Easby-Smith, counsel for Col. Forbes.

VENERABLE PEAR TREE
STILL YIELDS HARVEST
DANVERS, Mass.—By the Associated Press.—A pear tree which was brought from England by Governor John Endicott of the Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1630 and planted on his farm at Danversport is still bearing fruit. About a bushel of pears was its harvest this year.

The tree is protected only by a jacket fence. Tradition has it that it was a custom of the governor to send a basket of the pears each year to the king of England. President Lincoln is said to have visited the tree and eaten of its fruit. When President Calvin Coolidge was governor of Massachusetts he came here to see the tree and characterized it as "one of the most remarkable living landmarks of the early history of New England."

COMMITTEE PROBING FEDERAL RESERVE MOVES TO OMAHA

CHICAGO, Ill.—The congressional committee investigating the membership condition of the federal reserve banking system moved to Omaha on Wednesday and will carry on there the course of inquiry followed by a two-day hearing concluded late Tuesday in Chicago.

At the final committee meeting a proposal to curb branch banking through prohibitory regulations imposed by the federal reserve board, was submitted to the congressmen by William J. Rathjke, representing the American Bankers' association opposed to branch banking.

H. J. Mortensen, representing the Wisconsin Bankers' association, advised that many of the smaller banks of his territory might be brought in to the federal system of abolition of the par clearance system, under which remittances to outlying banks are cleared with charge.

STRIKE RIOTS IN WARSAW RESULT IN DEATHS OF 22
WARSAW.—By the Associated Press.—Twenty-two persons have been killed and three score wounded in riots and bombings growing out of the strike of railway workers.

The disorders occurred despite the agreement of the socialists to call off the strike in return for the government's promise to withdraw the military from the railroads.

The most serious riot was at Cracow, where a crowd surrounded and disarmed a company of infantry. The men were rescued by a cavalry charge in which 20 persons were killed. Most of the dead were soldiers, including three officers.

A bomb exploded in Warsaw yesterday morning in the headquarters of the socialists, killing two persons. The city was alarmed by the disturbance, but no further trouble occurred.

"AUNT MARY" BACK IN CITY TONIGHT
May Robson, whose name is held in highest esteem in every household, is an annual event and is always hailed with delight, and the famous star is to appear at the La Crosse theater tonight in the revival of her greatest success, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," by Anne Warner.

There could be volumes written about this wonderful characterization of "Aunt Mary" and then it would not all be told, but as "Aunt Mary," Miss Robson made a great reputation. New York enjoyed this success for two years; then London for a season and a tour of this country completed it. Aunt Mary was then laid away, but the public's demands have been answered in its revival.

Nothing is lovelier than the grace displayed by Miss Robson in the beautifully brocaded gown with her real lace and high backed jewelry as she sits in the quaint old-fashioned carved chair and fairly drips in all the life displayed by the young folks of the play.

STATE UNIVERSITIES TO CONFER
ANN ARBOR, Mich.—The making of school budgets and the helpful use of information developed in the investigation of common school problems, will be among the subjects discussed at the meeting in Chicago November 12-13 of the National Association of State Universities. It is recognized that the application of dollars to the needs of schools is of growing importance. The problems of state schools are increasing, and at the same time they are very similar. The vastness of the present day demand for education is the warrant for some plan by which one investigation will help solve the problems common to all.

Discoveries only date back a few million years, so first coal strike is not among them.

SUSPECT HELD BY POLICE IN CHURCH MURDER MYSTERY

Charred Body of Woman Found in Ruins of Negro Church in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Officials working on the mystery in connection with the finding of the charred body of a woman in a negro church building which burned near Tusculum last week have another possible clue on which to work. Wednesday night the arrest here of a young man, who was lodged in the city jail on a dangerous and suspicious charge.

According to police when he was arrested in a local rooming house he had newspaper clippings giving accounts of the case and on the back of a business card was written the name of a young woman who has been reported missing since the night the church burned.

Although Tusculum officials say that the identity of the victim has not been established, Chief Deputy Sheriff Henry Hill of Jefferson county, who returned from Tusculum Tuesday morning still insists that the name of the woman is known, although there are other points to be investigated before he can make known his findings.

The body of the woman showed that the skull had been fractured and ribs broken. Officials are confident that the fire was for the purpose of hiding murder.

TOO MUCH POLITICS IN PULPIT DRIVES MAN FROM CHURCH

Detroit Man Resigns; Scores 'Propaganda in Pulpit and Criticism of Government'

DETROIT, Mich.—What he calls political stump speeches from the pulpit and increasing "criticism of the best government on earth" in place of solid religion has led Horatio S. Earl, for thirty-five years a member of the Cass Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, and part of that time a member of its official board, to send his resignation to Dr. Robert Tucker, its pastor. Mr. Earl made the announcement Tuesday.

"I am tired of hearing nothing but 'dry' and election propaganda and criticism of men like Police Commissioner E. H. Earl when I go to church," Mr. Earl said. "That isn't what church is for. I have stood as long as I can, and my resignation is simply a protest against it."

Still a Christian Man
"I have not given up my place as a Christian by this action. I hope to remain one as long as I live. But what the church has been doing is not my idea of Christianity. When I go to church I want to hear the gospel. All this stuff the preachers are pouring out constitutes desecration of the pulpit, in my opinion."

"The churches used to be dry, while I was a little wet. Today the churches are wet and I am dry. They stand for strict enforcement of the eighth commandment and the Volstead law which never can be enforced. In doing so they only encourage bootlegging and other ills."

PREMIER'S OLD SWEETHEART WITNESSES HIS TRIUMPH
ROME.—By the Associated Press.—The commune of Predappio, where Premier Mussolini was born, recently acquired the house of his birth and gave it to him. He was present at the ceremony, and the people acclaimed him delightedly.

In the crowd was a woman still unmarried who, years ago, said to Mussolini as he wooed her with the impetuosity of youth: "We are both as poor as poor can be, and if we married we should only bring into the world beings equally poor to suffer and want. It is better that we agree to part." "By all means," replied Mussolini, and went his way to become prime minister.

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS
Pharmacists call it "Joint-Ease" Because it's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only.

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, painful joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint-Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatsoever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint-Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

All druggists dispense it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.

LIGHTED CIGAR IS CAUSE OF FIRE AT MABEL GAS DEPOT

MABEL, Minn.—When Alfred Nelson of Prosper drove up to the filling station of the Mabel Oil company for gas with a lighted cigar in his mouth he offered to engineer the hose while an employee of the station ran the pump. Instantly the outside of the auto tank and the hose were set ablaze and Nelson, dropping the hose put out the fire with his handkerchief and with help from bystanders pushed the auto out of the way. But the gas-line running from the hose to the platform was also ablaze and when the station employee jerked the hose from the pump, the wretch broke the meter, which allowed the gasoline to spurt in all directions, the flames from it glowing at least fifty feet high. The gas was then shut off underground and the fire gradually burned itself out.

SHOUT FOR JOY

La Follette and Europe

SENATOR LA FOLLETTE'S report of conditions in Germany substantiates what has been said upon this subject by General Allen, American commander in the Rhineland. The latter places the number of hungry children, menaced by starvation, at around 2,000,000 but in a condition rapidly growing worse there is no limit to which suffering may not go. Let us quote Senator La Follette:

The situation in the large cities of Germany where food riots are common is desperate. The crisis which is a part of the possibilities too awful to contemplate. It is more than Germany. Hunger is the fire-bomb of revolution. There is no time for protracted debate. The case calls for immediate relief. Delay means the possible overthrow of governments, dissolution, chaos, civil war and hell let loose in Europe.

The first need here is immediate relief. These children must be fed, and it is difficult to imagine that the country which fed the starving in Belgium, Russia and Japan will permit German babies to perish for want of bare sustenance.

Yet there is in the German situation an obstacle which did not exist in the other instances. We have just come out of a war with Germany in which the vigor of our arms was supported by resentment of German policy more or less deliberately fired into something akin to hatred. Perhaps it is a mitigated circumstance that America never hated in the intense way in which hatred existed between Germany and France. It accepted its role as an unpleasant police duty. Nevertheless, as Mr. Pulitzer puts it, public opinion was conscripted during the war and this country was in a bitter mood against Germany.

That is what we are finding in the effort to inspire prompt action for the relief of famishing German children and women. There is a sort of inertia set against the movement. There is a tide of opinion to overcome. This is all the more reason why those who see the calamity of central Europe, whether moved entirely by considerations of humanity, or influenced in part by a prudence which realizes the threat against civilization contained in the German chaos, should work the more energetically to lead the American people in the direction in which, ordinarily, every Christian consideration would lead them.

Senator La Follette's interviews in Boston and Washington are not sufficiently specific as to remedies to permit a confident forecast as to what he has in mind. If it be merely to relieve the suffering of the moment, the remedy will be far from complete. We must feed these people, but to feed them without doing something to alter the conditions which impoverish them would be poor statesmanship. Social workers know this. In the old days they were content to feed the poor. Today, in addition to feeding them, they go into the homes of the poor to find out why they are poor and to bring them ways and means of becoming self-sustaining.

But as we read the quoted paragraph from Senator La Follette, we find in it indications that he sees in the present distress and turmoil something more than the hunger of a nation. "Delay," he says, "means the possible overthrow of governments, dissolution, chaos, civil war and hell let loose in Europe." He says that it "menaces more than Germany" and "involves possibilities too awful to contemplate."

Surely, then, he must have in mind something more than American bread for the German bread-lines. Whether or not his ideas of statesmanship are altered, he must be thinking about some method of restoring German industry.

People who believe in war have a prompt answer to the situation. Let America and Great Britain notify France that she must pay her debts to them, or let Germany go to work in order that Germany may pay. Such an ultimatum would be useless if unaccompanied by military menace. And Senator La Follette, essentially a believer in peace, would hardly justify artillery as the proper pill for sick Europe. There must be some other way, one that he is ready to endorse and can square with his international convictions. As he says himself, "the case calls for immediate relief." We await his suggestions hoping most profoundly that they will be practical and effective.

Whose Business?

THE Armour meat packing company tells its 60,000 employees they can become silent partners in the business by buying preferred stock. This stock will be sold to employees on the installment plan. It will pay guaranteed dividends of seven per cent. Only a few years since the Armour firm was practically "a closed corporation." That is to say, the Armour family owned most of it and controlled all of it. Observe a straw showing which way the wind's blowing.

There's really nothing unusual about the Armour method of letting employees buy an interest in the business. Many businesses already have the same system in operation. It's the ideal way to save. The method usually is for the employee to subscribe to pay so much a week, then that amount is regularly taken from his pay envelope. The employee with stock in the business is more loyal and works harder. That's the theory, at any rate, and it averages true. So it's a definite part of the "efficiency" movement.

You never can tell where such a thing, once started, will lead. Take a business employing 100,000 men. If each of them invested $1000, there's a fund of 100 million dollars. Quite a fund, that. Will the day come when employees, by their savings, will buy a controlling interest, then gradually take over the businesses that employ them? An interesting prospect, and a possibility.

The Other Fellow's Mob

By CORONA REMINGTON

"Clarice, you're a tramp! You're a peach! I was so afraid you wouldn't do it."

"Why, Paul, I think it'll be thrilling and we'll be just as married and I'll save such a scene. Have you any plans?"

"It seems to me it'd be best for me to run over to Wellington in the car and arrive there some time in the afternoon. Then I could simply ask you over for a spin."

"Oh, that's too prosy." The voice over the wire was decidedly disappointed. "No sheet ladder or narrow escapes or anything! If we're really going to escape—let's escape. Don't let's just walk off."

"Just as you say, dear. If you'd rather I can get there at 1 o'clock in the morning or a little later and when I throw a pebble against your window you can slip out, but you must not try the sheet ladder business. You might get hurt and then what would I do?"

"All right, I'll give it up, but you'd better hang up, dear. This long-distance stuff costs a dollar a minute."

"All right, I'll be there, tomorrow. Just think of it—our day! Good-by, dear."

"Oh, Paul, I can hardly believe it. Good-by, dear."

Her excitement grew as the day passed and she amazed her employer by making endless mistakes in taking dictation and the scurried flush on her cheeks led him to believe that she was ill.

"I don't think you're well today, Miss Barton. We won't go any more until tomorrow. You may go home now," he said.

She shot him a sultry, grateful glance and walked out of his private office. The next morning she had somewhat collected her wits, but as the day wore on the excitement came back tenfold and it was with a superhuman effort that she held out to the end.

Then came home and supper, with ten scrutinizing eyes focused upon her. She felt that her face was screaming her secret, but at last she managed to get to her room on the plea of a headache.

After an endless age, an era of time, all was quiet in the house and Clarice crept around in the shadows collecting a few clothes and putting them in a suitcase. Then she sat down and waited a few more centuries for the clock downstairs to strike ten.

It came at last.

With trembling knees she slipped to the window to watch and was soon rewarded by the sight of a shadowy form standing below. Hastily picking up her keys she slipped down the stairs and out the front door.

"You darling," he said, kissing her. "You don't let's stop here! If they should catch us."

The car's parked two blocks away," he said, taking her bag.

They hurried along the empty street, occasionally sending anxious glances backward, but all seemed to be quiet.

They were several miles out of town when they heard a distant murmur to be heard.

"They're after us," said Clarice in a ghastly whisper. "And there are about a million of them. I hear autos and trucks. It's a regular mob. Hurry, Paul."

She gripped his arm in a grasp of fear and although he made the little car do its best the machines behind them were rapidly gaining.

"I don't believe we'll make it," he said at last. "Can you sprint, honey? We'd better leave the car. I can run it wild on grass and the cops won't see it or catch it. There's a little Methodist church up on the next hill, so there must be a preacher near."

A moment later they had hidden the car as best they could and started for the little house behind the church.

"There," he said, "is the real thing," said the girl as they heard the cars roaring past them in the road.

"Never touched us," laughed the man. "But how on earth did mother ever get so many folks on the chase?"

"Even you think of it. It wasn't an awful lot, only six or seven cars. But she's a terror when she gets started."

When the two made known their whereabouts to the inquiring head that looked down upon them from a second-story window Preacher Hinton promised to be ready in a minute, and it was not very much longer before he appeared at the front door, inviting them in.

A few minutes more and they were married. After the ceremony Mr. Hinton's smiling wife kissed the bride and wished her happiness with all the warmth of a devoted old friend.

Hurrying back to the car they started on their way.

"We'll have to stop here for gas," Paul said at last, "for as they approached a filling station. 'It's nearly 5 o'clock. I guess there'll be somebody round.'"

In response to their horn a steely man appeared from inside the tiny building and ministered to their wants.

As Lancaster alived from the car he saw for the first time a blank, sheepish look appeared on his face.

"Not a cent," he managed at last, "I left my money lying on the bureau in my room when I changed my clothes—nearly $200 in cash."

"We have just $25," said his wife. "We have to pay for the gas, then we'll have to go back and get it. I hope the maid at the boarding house is honest."

"I don't know about that. I'd hate to tempt her too far."

So back they went back along the road they'd so recently covered.

"We'll have to drive pretty fast if we expect to beat the maid to it," he said.

"We'll just slip around the edge of

NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW MAY LOCATE OFFICES IN STATE

Milwaukee Being Considered as Permanent Home for Dairy Interests

BIG DAIRY SHOW AT MILWAUKEE WOULD REPLACE STATE FAIR

Greater Cattle Accommodations Needed if Plan Goes Through

MADISON.—The National Dairy Show, the big annual exposition of the dairy interests of America, is looking for a permanent home, and Wisconsin being the Nation's leading dairy state, Milwaukee, the metropolis of the Badger State, is being seriously talked of as the home for this dairy exposition.

"I am in favor of locating the National Dairy Show in Milwaukee," said Commissioner of Agriculture John D. Jones, Jr., "either temporarily or permanently, providing this will in no way impair the interest in the Wisconsin State Fair."

"The National Dairy Show is a great institution of nationwide effect. The Wisconsin State Fair also is a great exposition, and its effect is especially strong with citizens of Wisconsin, and has been for nearly seventy-five years."

Would Replace State Fair

"I understand promoters of the National Dairy Show desire their 1924 show to be held on the State Fair grounds, Milwaukee, and that the State Fair be dispensed with next year."

"This proposition cannot be entertained for a single instant. The State Fair means, with its hundreds of exhibitors and far-reaching educational influence, too much to Wisconsin to skip a single year now for any conceivable reason. The State Fair is of such lasting benefit to every section of Wisconsin that to allow it to lapse for one year would be a state-wide calamity."

"However, I am in favor of the National Dairy Show being held in Milwaukee next year, and I also strongly favor its being permanently located in Milwaukee, provided the conditions under which it comes, either temporarily or permanently, are satisfactory to the citizens of Wisconsin, and especially of Milwaukee."

Need More Barns

"It would be unwise, indeed, to attempt to hold the National Dairy Show on the State Fair grounds, unless there were provided adequate accommodations for housing the cattle, and for presenting the many commercial exhibits which are a big feature of the show."

UNDER THE CAPITOL DOME

Odds and Ends of State Affairs by William J. Anderson

MADISON, Wis.—Your correspondent talked recently with a man who is at the head of a big business enterprise about the state situation with regard to taxes. His views on the subject were so sane that they are worth reproducing.

"I haven't been wholly in sympathy," this man said, "with the business man's treatment of the tax question in Wisconsin. We have devoted too much time to complaining about the tax laws and the heavy burden they have placed upon industry, and not enough attention has been given to working out something better."

"Taxation certainly has become a burden in this state, and seems likely to grow more and more burdensome unless we can work out some plan that will prevent a rapid increase. My belief is that if the business interests of Wisconsin could get together in some manner and select a commission to study the problem, the findings of such a commission would at least obstruct the flood of radical legislation. I believe that if such a commission were to present a report of its findings with recommendations, no legislature would dare ignore the report."

"The trouble is, the State Tax Commission is so loaded with the administrative part of its work, it has no time to do more than suggest improvement in the administration of the laws. An outside commission of the National Dairy Show, and from which the show draws a large percentage of its revenue."

"This would mean that before the National Dairy Show could be properly presented on the State Fair grounds a cattle barn accommodating at least 1,000 head of cattle, and a Manufacturers' Building of at least 100,000 square feet, would have to be provided, at a cost of at least $100,000.00 for the cattle barn and $200,000.00 for the Manufacturers' Building."

"Both of these buildings would be of great value to both the State Fair and the Dairy Show. The cattle barn would be a direct outlay without return, but the Manufacturers' Building would be in the form of an investment that would more than pay back the capital invested in five years."

"I hope the business men of Wisconsin, and especially of Milwaukee, will investigate the National Dairy Show project thoroughly, for I feel that so it stands in the way of made up of men familiar with the tax problem, studying honestly to improve conditions could render an important service to the state. Twenty-five or fifty thousand dollars thus spent would bring good returns."

"The fact is, we who are opposed to radical theories of government, have not been willing to meet them with carefully thought out measures. Our policy has been a negative one, and the radical element has profited by it."

Reference has been made in this correspondence to the fact that has been made by the state administration of the enforcement of the Civil Service law. The worst feature of the situation is that the whole merit system as now carried out has become a joke among state employees. There was not a state in the Union, prior to three years ago, in which the principles of civil service reform were more scrupulously maintained than they were in Wisconsin, and in these three years the system has degenerated to a by-word. The inevitable result of this will be the lowering of the standards of state employees. There is no longer any security felt among employees about their positions. Only the determination of certain department heads to maintain the character of their work has prevented a complete demoralization of department or organization.

obtaining this exposition that all obstacles readily can be overcome."

"And one important matter must be made sure of, if the National Dairy Show comes to Wisconsin at any time, and that is that the basic dairy interests shall be properly represented in its management."

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Menthosulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Menthosulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Rowles Menthosulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.

Rev. Gordon declared there had been much controversy as to facts in the case and he advocated an impartial survey of existing conditions.

Do we eat to live or live to eat?

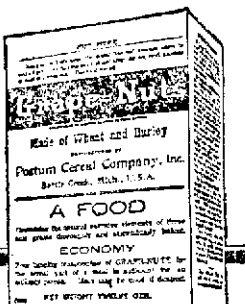

THOSE who live to eat usually have a short life, and not always a merry one.

Those who eat to live know that it is not how much they eat, but rather the food they properly digest that makes for health and long life.

Wives Can't Cook Because Americans Will Eat Anything Says French Chef

THE AMERICAN MAN WILL EAT STEAK AND POTATOES EVERY NIGHT AND NEVER COMPLAIN.

HE ALSO APPRECIATES A SMART FROCK MORE THAN HE DOES AN ELABORATE DESSERT.

A LOST HUSBAND CAN BE RECLAIMED BY COOKING TASTY DISHES

BY MARION HALE

NEW YORK—Suppose we stop looking on the flapper bride who serves her husband canned soup and salted fish as a symbol of the modern woman's coldness and indifference to her husband's needs and desires and instead of home-made bread and pot roasts and place the blame where it belongs—on the American husband.

It's his fault that the American woman thinks more of her clothes than she does of her cookbooks, because her husband appreciates a smart frock more than an elaborate dessert, according to Emile Jacques.

Jacques is the chef on the French liner The Lafayette. While sailing the great seas for two decades Jacques has acquired one of the largest repertoires of recipes of any cook in the world. But of his passengers only had been American business men he probably never would have become famous as a culinary artist.

"A cook thrives on praise and appreciation quite as much as a singer or actor," he confessed to me. "There is no incentive to develop one's talents unless the audience is responsive."

He'll Eat Anything
"The average American man has less discrimination about food than any other man in the world. You can feed him steak and potatoes every night and he never complains, or you can feed him from tin cans and paper boxes and he grinds for that—for a while at least."

"His tolerance makes him the most agreeable and amiable man in the world but does not develop a taste for elaborate cooks. The wife develops along the lines of her husband's appreciation and until he realizes the art in cooking, he will find himself joining for the college education of his delectable merchant's son."

Men of other countries are not so tolerant when it comes to their food, Jacques has learned.

They're Very Particular

"The Frenchman is most particular," he went on. "His food always must be correctly served and delicately flavored. The French wife must be a good cook to hold him. Next to the Frenchman, the Italian is most particular. The Englishman cares less for variety, but what he likes he is very fastidious about. Scandinavian women must know how to prepare hundreds of fancy and intricate dishes to please their husbands' palates. Only the American wife can do as she pleases."

Jacques is an international cook. He can get up a dinner for a monarch or a duke with ease, or any first on his host may order his particular dish and find it done to his taste. But praise and appreciation have made him what he is, and he assured me the difference would have filled his creative nature.

So to any husband who would re-claim the home-cooked meal, he advises a little judicious campaign of appreciation, and to any woman who wishes to reclaim a lost husband, he advises mastery of the following dishes:

Sole au Gratin

Remove the skin from a sole and clean it carefully so that no blood remains inside, then place on a baking dish that can stand the fire. Put salt and pepper on both sides, and chop two or three shallots and a little parsley, and spread over the fish. Then sprinkle with bits of butter and a layer of bread crumbs. Cook and serve on the same dish.

Veal a la Parisienne

Cut a shoulder of veal into small cubes and then put them in a stewpan in which you have melted a medium-sized piece of butter. When it has browned slightly, add some chopped parsley and an onion, a couple of tomatoes and salt and pepper to taste. Stew for an hour and a half over a slow fire, then remove the meat and put the vegetables and meat liquor through a strainer and use as a sauce to pour over the meat.

How to Make Mind and Body Work Together

This is the fourth of a series of articles by Niels Bukh, Denmark's "Walter Camp," in which he tells American women how they may develop a lithe and healthy body through his system of training.

BY NIELS BUKH

You can't have a perfect body without a perfect telephone system. That's what co-ordination of mind and body means.

Did you ever try to circle your hands in opposite directions and find that you can't do it?

That's because your telephone system isn't as it can be. Your mind isn't able, without training, to transmit more than one order at a time.

The reason for this is that in ordinary life we have too few movements. Therefore in teaching co-ordination of mind and body I start in with an arm movement, then arm and leg movement, then arm, leg and body, until finally the movements are extremely complicated.

There is no end to what can be done in this way, and all is beneficial making for better control of the body and better development of the mind.

A suitable exercise to start with is: Stand erect, heels together, hands on shoulders. At the count of one, point left foot to side, left arm up and right arm out to side. Keep arms and legs straight.

At count of two, return to first position. Then repeat, pointing right foot to side, right arm up and left arm out to side. Continue alternating a number of times.

When you have become proficient in this, the exercise may be complicated by following with these movements:

Both arms up, left leg forward and up, bent at knee.

Both arms up, right leg up and forward, bent at knee.

After you can do these exercises rapidly, you can easily think of other movements that will accomplish the same results in developing co-ordination of mind and body.

CLEAN TOWELS

Always put your clean towels at the bottom of the shelf on which you keep your linens. This way they all get an even amount of wear.

Never set sticky dishes or greasy platters on your closet shelves. It is the only invitation that roaches and waterbugs consider necessary.

DROP KIDNAPPING CHARGE AGAINST BADGER SHOWMAN

Hersch Ordered by Authorities to Destroy Marionette Show and Go Back to Farm

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Within a few days a pile of ashes is all that will remain of the "Lower County Gopher Show," which, for a time, brought notoriety to its owner, Paul Hersch, of Green Bay, Wis., because of his alleged kidnapping of a five-year-old child, Mabel Kropf, of Ouellette, Wis., to assist him with the Marionette performances. It later developed that the parents of the child had granted Hersch permission to take her for a week if he would bring her back.

The kidnapping charge against Hersch had been dismissed and he had been ordered to contribute to the support of the two children, Mabel Kropf, and Della Gieskey, 12, of Keweenaw Harbor, by keeping them at school.

Hersch was ordered to remove the child from his wooden dolls and to take her to her home. Then he was ordered to move from the city. This was accomplished by the fact that the child had been taken to the home of the parents and had been in the custody of the parents ever since.

MAN JUDGED INSANE BY DOCTOR DEMANDS A TRIAL BY JURY

ASHLAND, Wis.—Peter Zarowsky, residing near Butternut, sees no logic in a decision of two doctors finding him insane, simply because he indulged in a few unconventionalities, such as not bathing and attempting suicide. Therefore, he has demanded that the finding of the medical men who examined him be set aside and a jury of twelve be summoned to pass upon his mental status.

Zarowsky was first arrested some days ago upon complaint of his wife who charged him with abusing his family. Two physicians were called upon to make an examination. They reported they could find no mental unbalance as was suspected. Authorities, however, were not convinced and Zarowsky was detained at the county jail here.

He became violent one day and gave color to his somnolence in the jail by attempting to hang himself. His attempt was frustrated by the timely arrival of the sheriff.

Another mental examination was made. The two doctors who made the investigation declared the prisoner insane. Zarowsky, informed of their verdict, worked himself into a fury. He demanded a jury trial. Hearing of the case was set for a special sitting of the court, the date to be announced shortly.

RADIO EXPERIMENTS SHOW DEAF PERSONS CAN "HEAR" MUSIC

NEW YORK.—By the application of amplified electrical vibratory sound currents, persons rated as "stone deaf" have been enabled to hear music, it was announced Tuesday on conclusion of tests at the New York Institution for instruction of the deaf and dumb. The experiments were conducted by David Grimes, radio expert and electrical engineer.

The use of a radio receiving apparatus requiring no aerial, ground wires or outside connection was employed in the experiments. Although the regular radio currents were not utilized, the apparatus provided a means through which a volume of sound could be transmitted and increased without distortion.

No difficulty was experienced in enabling those rated as low as five per cent to hear perfectly, according to the report, while several students rated as "stone deaf" and lacking ear drums, also were able to hear when the volume of sound was increased.

WARRANT NECESSARY FOR SEARCH OF CITY LICENSED PROPERTY

MADISON, Wis.—State prohibition officers are not authorized under state laws to search without a warrant premises which have been licensed by city ordinance, the attorney general's department Wednesday held in an opinion to T. M. Beck, district attorney at Racine. It was further held that seizure of intoxicating liquor on such premises is illegal.

Liquor unlawfully seized can be used as evidence, however, unless the court orders it returned to the owner, the opinion stated.

The question of search warrants is now the subject of a test suit in Dane county which probably will be carried to the supreme court in the near future for final adjudication.

The stock sale plan offered to employees on a deferred payment basis was opened October 24, and November 10, had been set as the day on which the offer was to be withdrawn.

FRIED FOOD FATAL TO NATIVE SONS OF EARLIEST DAYS

Santa Barbara Men's Remains Found Near Giant Community Skillet

By LEE O'URMAN (Special Correspondent) Copyright 1923.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal.—The California's "Santa Barbara" men who roamed the Pacific Coast 25,000 years ago and to whom the 15,000 year old Neanderthal and Heidelberg men of central Europe are comparatively infants in antiquity, probably succumbed as victims of the frying pan and consequent indigestion.

Credible evidence, now being made here under the direction of the Smithsonian Institute, show that America's favorite gastronomic weapon—a weapon which modern doctors unite in blaming for torpid livers and shortened earthly spans—was in popular use long before lunch counter chefs first were charged with making hurry up short orders the vogue.

Teeth Were Bad

Not only are there ungainly skeletons, fashioned from rock to prove that juicy dinosaur steaks, fried in massive fat, tickled the palates of California's primordial settlers, but there are other evidences that the two pioneers of 25,000 years ago liked their ears piping hot and with plenty of grease. The decayed condition of the teeth found in the two skeletons bears mute evidence to this fact, as it does to the fact that indigestion from half-cooked foods and hasty dining probably was a factor in their early demise.

The size of the pre-historic frying pans also shows that the owners were either prodigious eaters, who consumed fifteen or twenty pounds of meat at a single sitting, or else that cooking was a community affair.

Aside from totally disrupting scientific and archaeological theories regarding the centuries since humanity first appeared on Mother Earth, the Santa Barbara skeletons are certain to create a furor of argument in other directions. For one thing, they already are furnishing new ammunition to proponents of the Darwinian theory of evolution, with William Jennings Bryan declared to be the bunk.

They Had Tails

Since a week ago when it was first told that the local "ape men" might prove the long sought "missing link" in man's development from the monkey, scientists have substantiated that forecast in many details. Not only did Santa Barbara's primitive inhabitants have heads and arms and hands like those of gorillas, but the length of their vertebrae below the juncture of the pelvis indicates that they also had short tails. So far, nothing has been found which would refute the theory that they actually are the long sought "missing links."

The primitive adventurers were well fortified in the manner of skulls. Falling head foremost off a high cliff or having a ten pound boulder bounce ed off their thinking apparatus apparently was nothing for them to worry about. The cranial walls of both skeletons show a skull thickness ranging from a half inch to an inch. This fact scientists now aver, proves that evolved twentieth century bonheadedness is not a matter of civilization or cultural development.

Science Verifies Age

While several prominent eastern archaeologists have evinced skepticism regarding the claim that the Santa Barbara men are many centuries older than the Neanderthal and Heidelberg types, scientists on the Pacific coast who have examined the skeletons, are united in declaring they are at least 25,000 years old. They also point out that the Santa Barbara discoveries are correlated to discoveries several years ago of the skeletons of Sabretooth Tigers, mastodons and huge winged saurians in the La Brea pits near Los Angeles. The La Brea pits already have yielded the bones of many pre-historic monsters which even eastern archaeologists admit existed long before the earliest known age of man.

While the Santa Barbara men are 10,000 years older than the Neanderthal and Heidelberg types, the latter were slightly above the former in brain power. Proving this and also the greater age of the skeletons found here, Dr. John P. Harrington, of the Smithsonian Institute, directed the excavations, points out that while the Neanderthal and Heidelberg men had receding foreheads, the Santa Barbara men have virtually none at all.

This, he says, denotes a much earlier stage in the development of humans from the animal stage.

Jaws Transitional

The jaws of the Santa Barbara men appear to be a product of the transitional age from the Anthropoid Ape to man. The teeth, however, are similar to those of the European stone age men, and much like those of present day humans.

Mistress or Maid?

Can You Tell Which By Their Hands?

A Special Soap for Women Who Do Household Work to Keep Hands Soft and Lovely

Do you know there is now no reason for a woman who does kitchen work—even laundry work—having ugly hands?

Soft and lovely hands—you, too, can have them.

Why hands get ugly

3 housewives in 4 have ugly hands—hands which tell kitchen secrets.

Harsh laundry soaps are the reason.

Most contain 25% to 40% water glass—a skin wrecker. Of 28 popular brands of household soaps recently analyzed, 27 were adulterated.

Put your hands in strong suds day after day. And there can be but one answer.

Now a gentle way

Green Arrow is a new idea in household soap.

It is made for women who appreciate the charm of pretty hands.

It cannot injure. For it is like a fine toilet soap. Olive oil is one of its principal ingredients. It cleans more quickly and safely than the strongest old-time soap.

Wash dishes, scrub—yet have pretty hands.

That is what Green Arrow offers you.

For one week

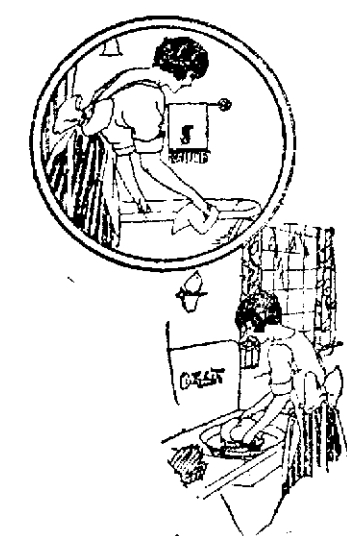

Obtain a bar at your grocer's.

Then look at your hands in one week.

You will thank us, as thousands of women have, for telling you about it.

And it costs but a little each month to enjoy it, for it goes almost twice as far as ordinary soap—you must figure soap costs by the month, not by the bar.

Green Arrow Soap comes in two forms—cake soap for general household use—chips (or flakes) for laundry and fine fabrics. Both offer you unusual advantages.

Your Hands Tell the Story

Rough, ugly hands tell a story to the world. A story of the kitchen, the laundry, the scrub bucket.

Most women do housework. But few want to tell it to every chance acquaintance.

Most laundry soaps contain 25% to 40% water glass. This adulterant, technically known as silicate of soda, is invariably accompanied by an excess of caustic. It is this "filler"—not soap—that ruins hands. Green Arrow is made with the precision of a toilet soap and is pure soap.

Now you can have white and lovely hands regardless of how much kitchen work you do.

For your hands and your clothes' sakes, go to your grocer and insist on buying GREEN ARROW.

INDUSTRY HAS NO CAUSE TO COMPLAIN DECLARES BLAINE

Farmer the Real Complainant Says Governor in Address at Fond du Lac

ANSWERS CLAIMS INDUSTRY IN BADGER STATE IS DECLINING

Farm to City Trend Menaces Dairy Business, He Says

FOND DU LAC, Wis.—By The Associated Press.—Governor John J. Blaine in an address before the Holstein Breeders' association here Tuesday night answered in part claims of certain interests that industry in Wisconsin is on the decline. He declared that the farmer, and not the industrial operator, has cause for complaint that industry in Wisconsin has "outstripped agriculture in the number of persons engaged and the value of manufactured products," and that the agricultural industry of the state today is menaced by the movement of population from farm to city.

The gathering was occasioned by the opening of the new sales pavilion of the breeders' association here. Governor Blaine dealt at length with a number of agricultural problems, and proposed solutions.

Wisconsin's position today as a dairy state is menaced because of the trend from the farm to the city," the governor said. "In fact, it becomes more and more a problem not only for the dairyman but for the men engaged in any line of agriculture to obtain the necessary help for the farm."

Balance is Necessary

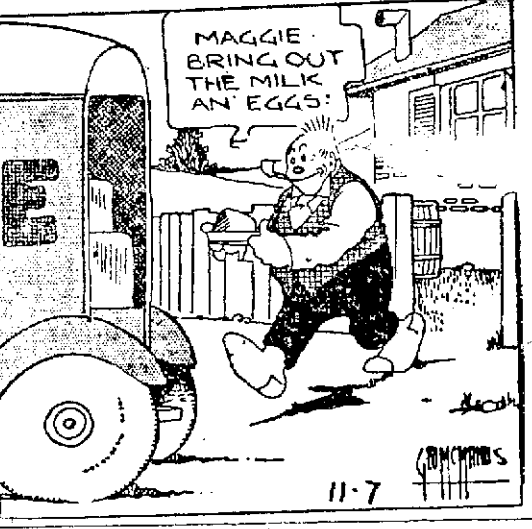

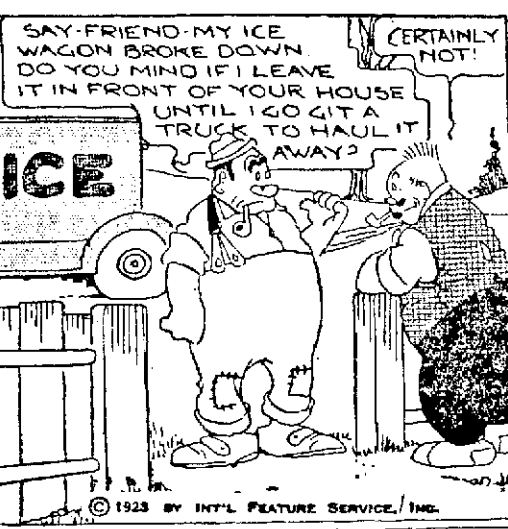

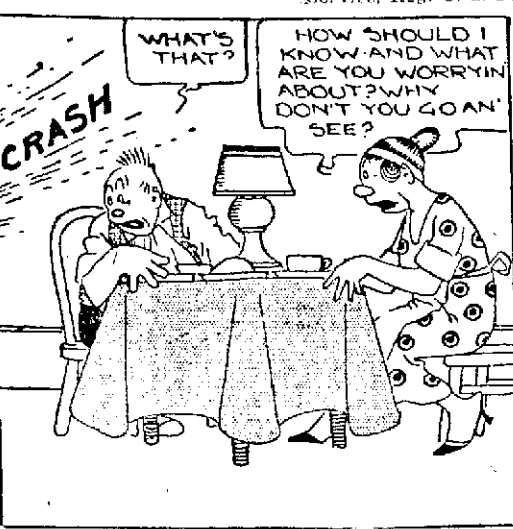

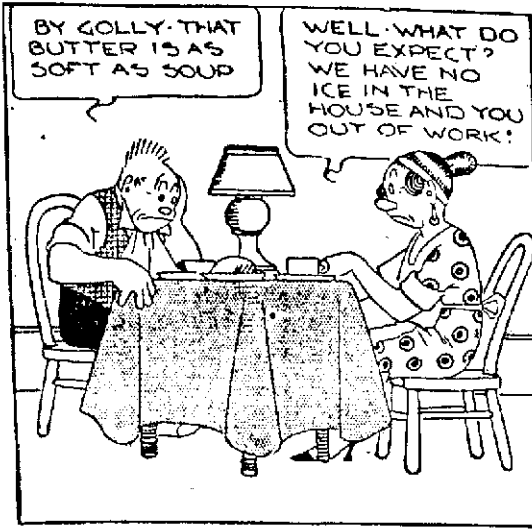

"A prosperous state should have well balanced agricultural and industrial interests. Wisconsin perhaps is the single state where that balance has been preserved until recent years when the exodus from the country to the city began."

"No doubt you have read in some of the newspapers recently paid advertisements, news items and false rumors bewailing the fate of industry. The facts are quite contrary to these. The number in given occupations is a good barometer with which to judge the progress of the occupation. For instance, manufacturing and mechanical industries have been developing in the last five years by leaps and bounds until today there are employed in them over 340,000 people which agriculture and its allied occupations have only 205,000. While the value of farm products has grown in the enormous sum of $780,000,000 a year, the total value of manufactured products exceeds twice that sum. This tremendous growth of industry in Wisconsin accounts to a certain degree for the trend from country to city."

Farmers in Real Trouble

"Industry has its problems. It is true, but no such problems affecting personal and individual welfare of the operators of industry such as the problems that confront the farmers in this state and nation. Industry in Wisconsin has advanced steadily until it ranks eighth in the number of establishments and capital invested in manufacturing and outstrips agriculture in the number of persons engaged and in the value of products. If there is anyone in Wisconsin who is entitled to complaint, it is not the industrial operators but the men and women on the farms."

Governor Blaine declared that one of the foremost problems confronting the farmer today is that of marketing. He said the marketing problem of the farm has not yet been solved and advocated co-operative marketing and selling organizations to offset the "great combinations of wealth" which he said "have set aside all the natural laws of competition."

"There is the vast capital account of the dairyman, whether he be producing butter, cheese or milk that can be brought together co-operatively. It can be sold co-operatively. The great waste which occurs from the time a product leaves the farm until it is put upon the table or on the back of the consumer can be eliminated by a well organized co-operative plan.

"Co-operative marketing is in the pioneering stage. It is true, but I think we have pioneered in Wisconsin sufficiently long and successfully to demonstrate that the principle of co-operation can be applied to practically every product of the farm. It will need unselfish leadership, entirely divorced from influences such as banking, politics and others, that have ruined co-operative undertakings in the past."

"Farming is our basic industry and it is not enough for government to say to the farmer, 'Just keep on working and hoping, there may be a better day,'" he continued.

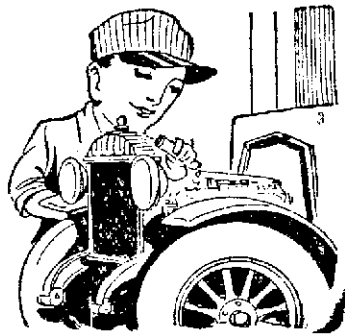

SKELETON IS DUG UP IN ALGOMA VACANT LOT

ALGOMA, Wis.—Bones of a human being, believed to be those of a white man, were unearthed in a vacant lot here by Charles Monfils while digging a hole for an electric light pole anchor. Only six inches of dirt covered the skeleton, which had been placed in the ground in a sitting position. Identification of the remains appears to be an impossibility, since no one claims any knowledge as to when and why the body may have been placed there.

STANDARD OIL OF INDIANA CONTROLS PRICES IS CHARGE

Head of Independent Company Claims Control Has Been Effective Five Years

MADISON, Wis.—The Standard Oil company of Indiana has controlled retail prices of oil and gasoline in Wisconsin for the past five or six years, according to testimony in the state's hearing on oil operations Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. McGuire said that independent companies in Wisconsin have followed prices determined by the Standard company of Indiana until recent months when they decided the price set was unfair and decided to reduce. The reduction of five cents a gallon on gasoline was made by the independent companies early in August, McGuire said, and the Standard followed with a reduction of six and six tenths cents.

"The Prairie Refining company has dominated the price of crude oil in the Mid-Continent field for several years up to this summer," Mr. McGuire stated. "It still tries to control such prices."

The Milwaukee Oil company president was the only independent representative who offered testimony in the state's closing hearing. He said that the independents compete with the Standard Oil company in quality of gasoline and service.

"The price of crude oil should be based upon the actual value of the product," he said. "The price of gasoline should be based on the price of crude oil considering the value of by-products, cost of operation, plus a reasonable profit."

Testimony in the oil investigation will be considered carefully by Attorney General Ekers before it is determined what steps, if any, will be taken by the state as a result of the inquiry.

CHARLIE RAY QUILTS FILMS FOR SPEAKING STAGE ROLE

CHICAGO.—Charlie Ray, movie actor, here en route to New York, is leaving the films temporarily for the legitimate stage—back to "my first real love, the stage," he said.

Back cast in the legitimate he will be actor manager. He is rather discouraged with the movie situation, "what with the censorship and one thing and another," he said, adding, however, he did not mean that the movies were going on the rocks. "What we need is fewer productions," he said, explaining that actors' salaries were no more than on the legitimate stage, considering that movie actors on a week part of the time.

NEW AUTO IS WRECKED BY GASOLINE EXPLOSION

HIGHLAND, Wis.—Harold Stells, Milwaukee mechanic, came here to visit his mother, Mrs. B. F. Stells, making ready to return, he drove his car into a garage, left the engine running to keep it warm, and filled his gas tank from a five gallon can. A short circuit ignited the gasoline. An explosion followed and the garage was almost instantly a mass of flames. The Highland fire department rushed and the garage was saved but Stells' car is a complete wreck.

CO-OPERATIVE PLAN FOR ROAD BUILDING UPHELD IN RULING

MADISON, Wis.—A co-operative plan between the state highway commission and counties in the construction of federal as well as state aid highways, was approved as legal by the attorney general's department in an opinion delivered to the highway commission late yesterday. The opinion, written by Deputy Attorney General Robert M. Rieser, held that counties and the highway commission may enter into the co-operative arrangement.

The plan as proposed by the highway commission, calls for an agreement whereby funds allotted to counties for federal aid work may be used by the state in improving any part of the federal aid system. Such funds also may be used upon contracts on which the funds not allotted by the state is spent, it was held.

The co-operative road plan involves

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrh of the bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Here is a Substantial Business Opening

Nash now Offers you an Opportunity to go into the Automobile Business

This is one of the most unusual and remarkable opportunities ever offered publicly.

A business opening of great importance has occurred here in La Crosse.

The exclusive Nash franchise for this city and surrounding territory is now available to the man who is qualified to take it over.

Would you like to be that man?

If you have a good record; if your standing in this city is good; if you have a fair amount of capital, you will get immediate consideration.

A Remarkable Opportunity

La Crosse is one of the richest and most desirable territories in Wisconsin.

The man who gets the Nash contract here should make between $15,000 and $25,000 a year net profits.

In Sheboygan, a city of practically the same size as La Crosse, the Nash dealer started out four years ago with less than $10,000 capital. Today he owns the finest automobile building in Sheboygan, and nets over $20,000 a year.

Sells 500 Nash Cars in Town of 15,000

In Neenah-Menasha, a Wisconsin town of 15,000 population, the Nash dealer has sold more than 500 Nash cars during the past six years.

Another dealer in a small town is doing an annual volume of $140,000 with but $10,000 invested.

Instance after instance could be cited showing you how to develop a powerful growing business with limited resources.

If You Have $5,000 See Our Representative

You don't have to have a lot of money to make your start with the Nash line.

If you have $5,000 don't fail to see our representative. He will be in La Crosse within a few days.

He will show you how to plan your affairs, how to acquire a line of credit, all the details of getting started in your own business.

If you delay others may seize this chance. Act decisively.

Link Your Name With C. W. Nash

Scarcely 7 years ago C. W. Nash left the presidency of the General Motors Company to found his own company.

Proceeding conservatively yet progressively he has quickly built up one of the most sound and solid successes in American industry.

It is this man and this company that beckon you to join them in great plans for the coming years.

Already hundreds upon hundreds of men are now owners of growing businesses because of their association with him.

Nash Motors is on the Upward Climb

The profits of the automobile business are centering themselves more and more around a few big, strong companies.

Your chance to make real money and expand your business lies in a connection with a company such as Nash.

Last year Nash built approximately 42,000 cars. This year Nash sales will rise to 60,000.

And practically all the time the great factories at Kenosha and Milwaukee have been behind in production.

You Handle Both Fours and Sixes

One of the advantages of the Nash contract is that it gives you both Fours and Sixes to sell.

That means a wide market and big volume. The price range runs from $915 to $2190.

This is the field of greatest opportunity. And the discount terms are highly favorable.

C. W. Nash believes firmly in the Nash dealer—the dealer's success is the basis of Nash Motors' success, he says.

Nash Dealers Show as High as 187% Sales Increase

This year Nash dealers are recording great gains over last year's business. Some report 60% increase, some 80%, some 100% and better, some as high as 150%, and two reached the height of 187%.

These men are making money. You can do the same.

Everywhere the trend of preference among buyers toward Nash cars is gaining in vigor and volume.

Now is the time for you to take advantage of this country-wide good-will for the Nash product.

The pioneering is past. Step into a Nash contract and begin to reap the profits.

Note the Strength of Nash Motors

Nash Motors stands out today as one of the strongest companies in the industry.

Close to $24,000,000 it holds in cash and government securities. It has no bonded indebtedness. It owes no bank.

Guided by C. W. Nash it has always maintained itself aloof from any financial embarrassment.

On the payroll are more than 7,000 skilled workmen.

More than 93% of each car is built entirely by Nash workmen in Nash factories.

Bankers everywhere praise the discretion and judgment that have directed the conduct of this company from the outset.

Men of Every Class are Winning Automobile Success

Bakers, and butchers, bankers, implement dealers, traveling men, restaurant owners, garage owners, clerical workers, miners, grocers, hardware merchants, salesmen of every class have entered the automobile business and are making good.

There's no special training necessary. Use common sense and sell a line of cars nationally known and nationally liked such as Nash cars.

Many a man who faced discouragement in another line of endeavor has made himself well-off selling motor cars.

Don't hesitate over this opportunity. If you fail to take advantage of it you'll likely condemn yourself a year from now.

Where Can You Find a Finer Prospect?

Look about you. Where do you see a more certain way to acquire the independence you seek?

The Nash contract in this town awaits some man.

Will you be the fortunate one? It depends entirely upon you.

Be guided by these other thousands who are today rising higher and higher.

Our Representative Will Be Here in a Few Days

In a few days we will announce the arrival of a Nash representative.

He will gladly talk to you then. Be sure to watch this paper.

Get in touch with him at once. This is your opportunity and you ought to make the most of it.

Just drop us a letter at once saying you are interested in becoming a dealer.

You can do this right away. Then the Nash representative will call you upon arrival.

MARINETTE AND RACINE REFUSE TO MEET LA CROSSE HIGH

NEGOTIATIONS FOR TURKEY DAY GAME OPENED ELSEWHERE

Coach Finley Set on Idea to Bring Good Team Here for a Battle

PROPOSED CEDAR RAPIDS GAME OUT OF THE QUESTION

Negotiations Opened With West Allis, Waukesha, Ashland

La Crosse high claim the state football championship this year if it goes through its schedule undefeated.

Almost every team of any importance in the state has refused the high school challenge. Coach Finley said in a statement on Tuesday that he was ready to take on any team in the state that can show as good scores as the local eleven, and will assure the fans of the city a good football game on Thanksgiving day.

Negotiate Everywhere

Negotiations have been under way for the past week in an effort to secure a game with some team. Officials have been in touch with teams from virtually every corner of the state and have yet been unable to get any satisfaction from any one of them. Racine, who boasts an exceptionally strong team this year, refuses to play because "we don't believe in championship games." Marquette still looks for a game as claimants of the state title but when asked about the state title, he refused to discuss a game. The fullback becomes a factor in the negotiations. He is a senior, twenty years of age on November 25, and consequently will be unable to play. Madison Central claims that if they have a game with La Crosse at the end of the season, they will be in a position to play on Thanksgiving day. Principal Wiley on Tuesday was in touch with Cedar Rapids, regarding a Turkey day game. Cedar Rapids boasts a team that has not been defeated in seven years and has run up an average of one point every 22 seconds. However, they have scheduled a game for the championship of Iowa and will be unable to play.

Locals Are Crippled

But with all these teams singing their last lullaby, how about La Crosse? Already this season she has lost Marquette and is being regarded by many as being one of the best teams in the state. From a good half back in the state, and now Birmbaum has been declared ineligible because of age. Coach Finley has four men left for the backfield, but it will be a task to get them all. As he expressed it with the time La Crosse has this year all we need is a good backfield to carry the ball in the backfield.

FOOTBALL FACTS BY BILLY EVANS

THE QUESTION

A claim of a show of a big eastern college game some years ago in which a goal from field was attempted, the ball carried a long distance, then struck in front of the goal posts, about five yards short of carrying over the crossbar. The moment the ball struck the ground it seemed the kick had failed of its purpose. On the first bound it carried over the crossbar and the goal from field was claimed. It claims that such a "big" kick happened and that it should not have been allowed if it did. Is it or is it not? If a player should attempt a goal from the field, and it is apparent the kick was falling short, is it to have it strike an opponent and pass over the crossbar, is it legal?

THE ANSWER

It is correct in its claim as to a kick striking the ground and bounding over the goal post in a big eastern game. It seems to me that Princeton figured in the contest. As I recall it the rule relative to a goal from the field was not very definite at that time and simply read that the ball must pass over the crossbar of the opponent's goal. Unless I am mistaken this play caused a change in the wording of the rule. It is now very explicit and states: "In no case shall a goal be scored if the ball, after leaving the kicker's foot, touches the ground before passing over the crossbar." The rule is very definite, saying that if the ball strikes an opponent and then passes over the crossbar, it shall count as a goal.

Vamp Valparaiso--- Biggest Game of Year

Keep up the pep gang and we'll be able to Vamp and Vanquish Valparaiso. Remember the team can't do it alone. Everybody get out and push and let's see this game go as no game has ever gone before. The towns people as well as students should support the Maroon and Grey warriors in such a game. The invaders are ruled the strongest in the Western Interstate conference. Everybody together now, and show them that La Crosse has a stronger team.

Coach "Tubby" Keeler is drilling his men hard. A while of a workout was held last evening which showed great improvement. Every man was working for his school and putting every ounce of effort into practice in order that the game Saturday night be the best one ever played by the team.

Kenneth Clark who has been playing half back is showing up good and this past week has been going like a million dollars. Clark is one of the nearest half backs that has ever plunked or circled around a line. With the work Clark is doing now he is holding strong to be in the coming game.

"Boots" Bugbee always did have troubles, but he met his Waterloo when he was in Milwaukee. It isn't that "Boots" tried to make a date with the fair lady, but it so happened she misunderstood him and insisted on having him arrested. Trust "Boots" to wiggle away from anything like a policeman, so we still have the burly good natured lad with us in spite of the damnable decision to have him arrested. Ask "Boots" about it and see if he'll tell you where he was going.

Marion Schaeffer looked good on the field last night. Schaeffer has been out of the playing for the last three weeks because of broken ribs. Last night he demonstrated some of the prettiest kicking of the year.

SOPHOMORES SMASH AT SENIOR LINE AND TAKE A 16 TO 0 VICTORY

The members of the Sophomore first field hockey team of the La Crosse Normal school downed the senior team by a 16 to 0 score at a game played Monday afternoon on the school hockey field. The game was a smashing victory for the Sophomores, who smashed their way through the senior line time after time and finished the game without having had the seniors threaten their goal.

Field hockey is a new game in the United States and is becoming very popular in girls' schools about the country. The United States Hockey Association has been very active in this country since England played here three years ago. Miss Emma Wilder of the physical education department is very much interested in the game and is starting the field hockey tournament at the school. She hopes to make hockey popular among the girls of the school so that when they go out to teach they will continue the game with their students.

Teams from the three classes have been picked by Miss Wilder according to their ability and the first game of the tournament was played Monday. Class color teams have also been picked and consist of the girls who did not make the first team.

Steps in Organization of Horseshoe Throwers' Association Taken Last Night

LONG strides toward the organization of the La Crosse Horseshoe Throwers' association were taken at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, when it was decided to put on a membership canvass and make tentative arrangements for quarters in which the game could be played this winter.

Eighteen people interested in organization of the association turned out at the meeting, each of whom pledged himself as responsible for the sale of at least five membership cards at $1.00, which entitles the holder to all privileges of the club for one year.

The order for cards was placed with a printer on Wednesday by the temporary chairman, following instructions voted at the meeting Tuesday night. They will be mailed out to each of the men present and by the first of the week the membership canvass will begin.

Scores of horseshoe throwers were unable to be present Tuesday night because of other attractions in the city, and it was voted to hold the next meeting of the association on the night of Tuesday, November 20, at which time officers for the year will be elected.

Organization of the association is practically assured now in view of the enthusiasm evidenced by the gathering Tuesday evening, and it was expected that before the end of the month, the association will be working in fine shape.

"STOP GRANGE" BARKS WISCONSIN ALL THIS WEEK

Peer of Illinois Team Must be Checked if Badgers are Successful

DEFENSE HAS IMPROVED GREATLY BELIEVE CRITICS

Cardinal Eleven in Excellent Condition for Game

MADISON, Wis.—"Stop Grange," is the slogan which is claiming the attention of the entire Wisconsin football team and coaching staff. Grange is the peer of the Illinois team which is the aim of the Badger men this week.

Scrimmage All Week Coach Ryan Tuesday afternoon began the scrimmage grind that will continue throughout this week in preparation for the encounter with the Zuppke machine at Urbana next Saturday. The game will be the most critical of the season for the Wisconsin team.

Scouts from the Badger camp who saw the Chicago-Illinois game last week report that the Illinois offensive work was brilliant and that half-back Grange must be checked if the Ryan team hopes to attain any success in the conference this season.

With Doyle Harmon, flashy back of the second team, as their target, the Badger team today will begin a scrimmage session which is expected to last into the late hours of the evening each day. Air lights will assist the squad to carry on practice after dark and much of the practice will be closed, it is said. Zuppke plays will be used almost entirely, plays which the Illinois aggregation were forced to open up last Saturday as a result of the strong defensive which the Chicago team offered.

Defense Improves Ryan's team has shown up best this season on the defensive, critics of the team say, and it is believed by Cardinal followers that the Badgers will offer a stubborn resistance for their southern opponents. However, the team will be drilled particularly on defensive work this week, it is said, since coaches expect Wisconsin to be on the defensive and much of the game.

Ryan's squad is in excellent condition for the second conference tilt. Halfback Harris, who stands third among conference team members in scoring so far this season, will have recovered entirely from injury received in the Minnesota game, it is said, and Gerber, who sustained a broken nose, will be back in the harness.

STATE GAMES TO BE OF INTEREST COMING WEEK-END

Wisconsin Prepares for Illini; Marquette Meets North Dakota University

RIPON AND CARROLL TO FEATURE IN COLLEGE TILTS

La Crosse Normal Entertains Varparaiso

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The University of Wisconsin coaching staff, with all the information gained from such close games before them, are putting the football squad through a hard week of work in preparation for the annual game with Illinois, the coming Saturday.

Marquette proved that its reputation is based on a solid foundation, by its win over Detroit Saturday and is preparing a more smoothly running attack for the University of North Dakota at the local field Saturday. The strength of the Flickertail outfit is somewhat a question, but on the basis of past performances, the game Saturday should develop some high class football, with Marquette favored to win.

Ripon and Carroll college will furnish the feature of the state colleges for Saturday at Ripon. Although suffering a 17 to 0 defeat at the hands of Appleton last Saturday the Ripon team is expected to be able to take the measure of Carroll without a great deal of effort. The Carroll team was very green at the beginning of the season but had developed a stiff defense, which will require Ripon's hardest attack to batter down.

Lawrence is scheduled to meet Northwestern college at Watertown and should have little difficulty in winning. Campion college is expected to take St. Ambrose college into camp at Prairie du Chien with prospects greatly favoring Campion.

Among Normal schools La Crosse normal will entertain Valparaiso at La Crosse, and should score a victory. The over confidence of the La Crosse team, which caused them to go to an easy victory has been overcome and Coach Tubby Keeler has his men working at top speed developing the punch which scores touchdowns. In last Friday's game the La Crosse team although winning scoring distance several times were unable to puncture the Milwaukee line or get the ball advanced through the air.

Superior normal will take on St. Olaf college at Northfield, one of the leading Minnesota colleges at Superior. The up state team had little difficulty with Stout Institute Saturday, but will meet an entirely different team in the Minnesota Vikings. The game promises to be close with the odds slightly in favor of the invaders.

Eau Claire and River Falls will tangle as will Stevens Point and Whitewater, as other attractions in the normal school conference. Platteville normal will meet the state school of mines in a non-conference game at Platteville on Friday.

BIRNBAUM BECOMES INELIGIBLE BECAUSE OF OVER AGE; LISKOVEC SHIFTED ON OFFENSE AND DEFENSE

ONCE more Old Lady Luck deserted La Crosse high. Birnbaum, star half for the high school, has been declared ineligible for football because of becoming 20 years of age. This makes one less man in the backfield and Coach Finley has started training some of his line men to fill the vacancies. With the hardest game of the season ahead, Edgerton high, in less than two weeks it puts the squad in a rather bad way.

Coach Finley has already made his plans as to how to play his men. This is it: Liskovec who is a wonder at defensive tackle, will play this position part of the time and offensive when the team is on the offense. Be it known that in the critical moment of the Wisconsin Rapids game, when La Crosse was fighting on the two foot line and the line held for four downs that Liskovec was largely responsible for the holding. In the locker room after the game the men gave all the credit to him saying that he was the one who held the opposing backs out.

Liskovec will play a defensive tackle and an offensive fullback. Marcon, who is at center now, will take tackle when on the offense and on the defense will play his old position at center. Bunge will play center when on the offense and when on the defense will take full. So when the team is on the defense the same old line that made such a name for itself in Saturday's game with Wisconsin Rapids, will be in action, while on the offense Liskovec will take full and in the line will be Bunge at center and Marcon at tackle. How this will work out is uncertain but a good opportunity to try it will be in the game with Sparta there on Saturday. Sparta has not much of a team this year as evidenced by the fact that she was beaten by Tomah, 14 to 7, and Winona held Tomah to a 7 to 0 score and La Crosse swamped Winona, 22 to 0.

"Joe" Palmer, who has been playing sub tackle all year, will be given a chance at half. Palmer is fast on his feet and weighs about 170 pounds and should develop into a good backfield man.

After these substitutions in the line there will be in the backfield Weigant, at quarter, who is almost always good for extra yards through the line and around end; Zoerb at one half and Palmer and Regat at the other. At full will be Liskovec for the offensive work and Bunge for the defensive part of it. Bame will also be able to take care of one of the halves or else full for part of the time.

The team took it easy on Monday of this week but on Wednesday a scrimmage is in order. In all probability Coach Finley will use most of his subs in the game Saturday and give his first string men a much needed rest.

Steps in Organization of Horseshoe Throwers' Association Taken Last Night

LONG strides toward the organization of the La Crosse Horseshoe Throwers' association were taken at a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night, when it was decided to put on a membership canvass and make tentative arrangements for quarters in which the game could be played this winter.

Eighteen people interested in organization of the association turned out at the meeting, each of whom pledged himself as responsible for the sale of at least five membership cards at $1.00, which entitles the holder to all privileges of the club for one year.

The order for cards was placed with a printer on Wednesday by the temporary chairman, following instructions voted at the meeting Tuesday night. They will be mailed out to each of the men present and by the first of the week the membership canvass will begin.

Scores of horseshoe throwers were unable to be present Tuesday night because of other attractions in the city, and it was voted to hold the next meeting of the association on the night of Tuesday, November 20, at which time officers for the year will be elected.

Organization of the association is practically assured now in view of the enthusiasm evidenced by the gathering Tuesday evening, and it was expected that before the end of the month, the association will be working in fine shape.

"HUMAN WRECKAGE"

There is something in "Human Wreckage," Mrs. Wallace Reid's anti-narcotic picture showing at the Majestic theatre this week, that holds the audiences that see it firmly in its grip from beginning to end.

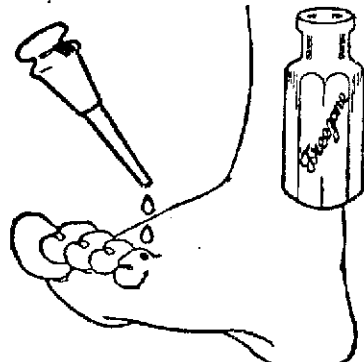

Mrs. Reid plays the devoted wife of the prominent lawyer, who, through unfortunate circumstances becomes an addict. James Kirkwood is the lawyer who carries on a relentless fight against the forces of narcotics, only to be caught himself in their trap, and Bessie Love, the little mother, who wages a pitifully weak fight against dope for the sake of her helpless offspring.

MAKES HUMAN PHOTO

At the age of twenty-nine most young men are losing sleep, trying to apportion their straggling salary to cover all their demands. Not so King Vidor. He is just twenty-nine, yet he has reached a place in his profession which is seldom equaled by middle-aged men. The only "pull" he had was his own determination to get ahead. He started without capital and in the eight years which he has turned his attention to motion pictures, he has climbed from extra to one of the highest priced directors. One of the most significant milestones of his directorial career is "Three Wise Fools," which is at the Casino theatre all week. In

WINTER SPORTS IN THE ADIRONDACKS

Skating, Sleighing, Skiing, Tobogganing, Mountain Climbing, Dancing—aye, and lots of flirting and a bit of wooing.

With Barbara Hastings, the charming young hostess of "The Cedars," an exclusive inn, getting a lion's share of the latter, and finally choosing an ambitious young artist. That is the setting. The rest is a thrilling story even more attractive than the splendid setting—a story of jealousy, envy and desire injecting their insidious poisons, in an effort to part those "whom God hath joined together."

adapting this great stage success for the screen for Goldwyn Pictures Vidor has deftly retained the humorous and blended with it a touch of the dramatic making it one of those vividly human pictures of life.

"WHEN WE WERE 21"—what memories it conjures to those who have passed its magic portals! Who has gone through without sowing wild oats?

H. B. Warner is presented at the Riviera theatre tonight only, in a picture of the stage play by H. V. Esmond, "When We Were Twenty-One." It is the romantic story of a young man who is sowing his wild oats of wine, woman and song, and knows not that he is suffering from the blindness of youth, and of a man who has passed twenty-one and sees with the eyes of experience the folly of the boy.

"THE CHALLENGE"—STRAND Widows are proverbially winsome or wicked, according to their age. In "The Challenge," the new picture starring Dolores Cassinelli at the Strand theatre tonight, is found a widow of a kind common to New York or, in fact, any large city. She is a merry widow without encumbrances and without visible means of support, of a type who live exceedingly well in expensive apartments.

ments, their clothes of the latest style and the richest texture, and who are constantly seen at the gayest restaurants. This description fits Peggy Royce (De Sade Moore). She is from New York and is given to outdoor as well as indoor sports at the winter resort.

"LOYAL LIVES" which will be at the Rivoli theatre on Thursday, is hailed everywhere as one of the most human portrayals ever screened. "Loyal Lives" is the story of an unsung hero, the postman.

"Loyal Lives" portrays the life of a postman in a typical American town. It goes with him on his route,

It shows his duties, his kindness of heart, and it pictures, too, the dangers he confronts. Highly dramatic, "Loyal Lives" teems with the adventure and romance of the United States mail service. In it are two tremendous thrills—a daring robbery of a speeding railway train and an equally dangerous hold-up of a post office.

APPLETON, Wis.—Nick Mueller, 15, was seriously wounded while hunting near his home in the town of Hilbert, when a gun held by his companion, Joseph Woods, went off as it was pulled through a fence. Woods climbed through the fence ahead of Mueller and he was pulling the gun after him, the trigger caught in a barb on the wire. The shot entered Mueller's hip. Surgeons said he will recover.
